

The Ely Underground

Trying to show light in dark world

A Letter From The Editor

Recent events may have left many to loose faith in GOD. And as I too feel my faith faltering, I must point to the fact that we are all still alive. This alone is a feat that the all mighty himself could only produce. I stress, do not lose faith! I know it is a strong test of it, but do not lose heart! The study of weaknesses in the fearsome foursome has begun. There may not be any; however, it is our only hope to find some.

Many complained as to the introduction of a certain person to the name of Thrash Mongo. Two more popular name were that of Space Cheese Junkie (SCJ) and that guy who talks funny from Police Academy (TGWTFFPA); however, Thrash Mongo still seems to be most appropriate.

At any rate, this is a very good issue of the Underground. We hired the F.E.I, have the new A.P. Hitlist, the final appearance of Mr.T and Doughboy, and the answers to last weeks puzzle. I must point out the fact that not all articles made the paper this week. If you made it, consider yourself lucky. If you didn't, well...if there is ever a slow week <grin>.

Doughboy Speaks. Listen!

This is the first time I am writing for The Ely Underground, and although I am giving up my secrecy and ability to stay off hit lists, the truth must be told. When I took the oath:

Neither rain, nor sleet, nor hail, interrogation by Lloyd, curses from the KCM, advancement on any hit list, or the ending of the world as we know it shall keep the Ely Underground from being published and the truth being told.

I promised to do whatever I could to let the truth be known, and I will. Although I am more of a technical specialist than a writer I will write an article to keep the public informed and save a few lives. May the world survive.

Lloyd Enters Presidential Race!

By: Monkey Boy

A great question has been on the mind of all of the political elites acorns the country, "Will Christopher Lloyd run for president?". That question was answered last week when Mr. Lloyd announced that he was running for president as his own Political party, the Lloydians. When questioned as to who his running mate would be; Mr. Lloyd quickly responded by saying "Ratboy, of course!". Then he expediently killed the reporter for asking such a stupid question. Further more, Mr. Lloyd added that all who vote against him will be destroyed. In a recent survey it was found that the vote was basically In favor of the Democrats. The Lloydians Coming in a close second, with the Republicans barely in the running.

Reasons for voting democrat were greatly skewed. As one survey respondent so eloquently put it, "Voting for Lloyd would ensure an oligarchy, and Dole is a fag!". A certain political elitist teacher felt basically the same, when he said of Lloyd, "He's a nut." He was apparently referring to the time Mr. Lloyd ripped the arms of one of his students, just because he wouldn't give him the answer on a test. The names of these two surveyees will not be given, as the staff at the Underground does not wish anyone to die simply for responding to a survey. This Reporter basically feels the same as the afore mentioned suveyees, but with a slightly different twist. I feel as though Dole is in league with Lloyd. Dole will attempt to gather as many votes as he can, and then at the last minute funnel them all to Lloyd. Of course, there are always those who don't know the truth, or are in fear of Lloyd killing them, those are the thirty percent who voted pro-Lloyd.

various reasons. One such respondee, a certain Underground staff member, he told us that he would vote for Lloyd simply because "I don't want to die.", If Lloyd is to be stopped, we must have more courage than that, to truly live is to look Lloyd straight in the eye, and say "I wrote that letter.", and know that you are a man for the next and last three seconds of your life. However, the is the other half of the Lloyd vote, the stupidity vote. I actually received some letters that said such things as "#1 with a flux capacitor!", and "Lloyd rules!". Obviously these people are living in a dream world, if Lloyd were to win, it would mean the end to theirs, and all of the rest of our lives. If Lloyd were elected, do these people actually think that Lloyd would spare their lives? Even on the slim chance that he did spare their lives they would in all likely hood be sent to the space cheese mines under the constant watch of Ratboy. While voting against Lloyd may cost you your life, it is a small price to pay to keep the world free for a few more weeks.

(I suppose the Republican vote should be discussed. Only a small doughy percent of the population voted pro-republican.)

Monkey Boy's poll of the Week:

If there were a presidential election held today, with Dole as Republican, Cliton as Democrat, and Christopher Lloyd had his own party, for whom would you vote?

Republicans 7%

Democrats 56%

Lloydians 31%

Undecided 6%

Christopher Lloyd

Enraged by Letter

BY: The Fat

I am agent Mulder and my partner is agent Scully, and we have been sent to Ely High to investigate strange phenomena. Our first case was to find out why the teacher's copy machine never works. It was clocked to work only 12 minutes a day, excluding bathroom breaks. We asked several teachers' opinions. "If that copy machine was anymore of a lemon," replied one teacher, "you could drink it." Another remarked, "It has it's own editing system. Of course it only edits whatever it wants."

Further investigations led to the fact that the teacher's copy machine was not working because the hamsters treadmill was stolen. The only way the treadmill could have been smuggled out is by a scan proof bag. Our first suspect was the Klingon Curse Master. But in our attempt to catch him, he swung his book bag at us. It would have been the end for Scully and I if one of the local janitors hadn't deflected the blow with his body (may he rest in peace). But still, the KCM got away and is still at large. The treadmill is presumed pawned.

Two Weeks ago, when the United Nations sent Christopher Lloyd a letter thanking him for not destroying the world, Lloyd was furious. As a result, half of the U.N. lost their lives. This past week on Tuesday, October 17, 1995, the survivors of the Christopher Lloyd massacre sent him another note apologizing for the first letter. The letter is reported to have stated the regrets of all them for ever sending the first letter.

So far Christopher Lloyd has not killed any more United Nations representatives, but it is this reporter's opinion that it is only a matter of time until he does; however, it is interesting to note that there are several rumors circulating that the KCM is the real source behind the letters. If this were true it would put the new truce between the two in jeopardy giving the rest of the world cause for a sigh of relief.

On The Dynamics Of Ratboy By: Mr. T

As a result of intense empirical investigation, I have formed various startling conclusions that have forced me to report this immediately for the safety of the free world. By means of some unknown technology, Ratboy has been able to harness the mechanics of photosynthesis and incorporate it into his "human" metabolic pathways, for I have observed him respiring the sun. He is so dependent on this source that he has minimized the amount of food necessary for energy and on cloudy and rainy days, when the sun is hidden, he roams around at velocities that do not even permeate the speed of sound, even in the presence of Three-in-one. I have recently seen our rodent resembling adversary maximize the surface area of his body exposed to the sun by stretching out his hands or spreading out on the ground, multiplying the factor at which he produces and retains energy by his chlorophyll web, i.e. his green pancho, and his multiple layers of sweater and jackets. His metamorphoses has been a result of his paranoia and resentment toward our government, further reinforcing our fears of his eventful revolution.

I SPY, Russians

During my recent disappearance I was able to plant many small surveillance devices (courtesy of A&J Detective Agencies) around the Russian hideout. These devices have been closely monitored to reveille all of the Russians secret plans and secret agents. Although it may be common knowledge that the Russians went back to Russia, they have actually stayed here until they have destroyed the Christopher Lloyd Gang. I cannot release a list of Russian agents at this time due to the high chance of inaccuracy. The most recent Russian Hit List is as follows:

- | | |
|----------------------|--|
| 1. Ratboy | 6. Bill Clinton |
| 2. Christopher Lloyd | 7. Kathey Lee |
| 3. TLM | 8. Monkey Boy |
| 4. Bob Saggot | 9. Llama (fear of turning more Russian agents gay. |
| 5. Doeboy | 10. The Gym Crew |

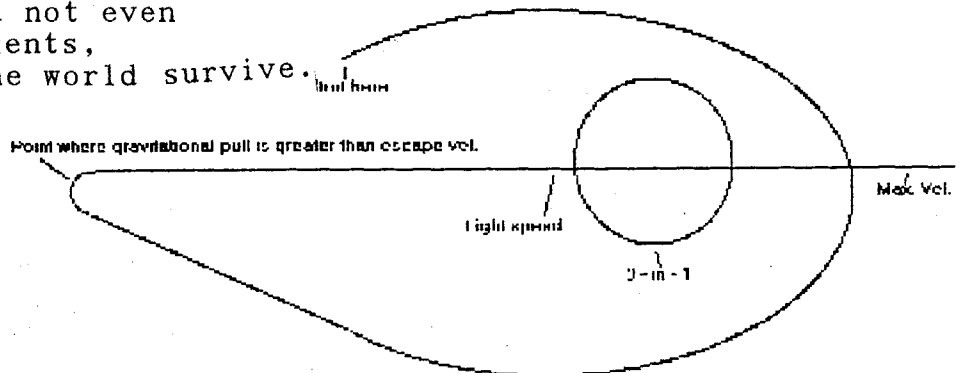

I have also been able to find out the most feared gangs against the Russians:

1. Christopher Lloyd Gang
2. The Gym Crew
3. The Ely Underground
4. PTC
5. The Chess Club

You will be relieved to know that the Russians only know the Ely Underground only exist, and they only know the open names of the writers and not the actually people. The littlest of fear to the Russians is the pathetic group called Epox, that could never pose a threat even to the gay-turned-Russians (by the Llama). This information is factual and not even known to most of the Russian agents, distribute with caution. May the world survive.

Ratboy Too Slow?

The Russians have a method to attain speeds fast enough to destroy the Ratboy. The Russians are using the Double 3-in-1 theory. The theory is pretty much the same as the 3-in-1 theory, currently used by the Ratboy, but the object almost completely loops around the 3-in-1 and suddenly turns around to travel straight toward the 3-in-1. Normally the object would crash into the 3-in-1 but since it is gaining speed it reaches the speed of light right before reaching it allowing it to travel through it! This poses a great threat to Ratboy, but the Ratboy needs not fear because any Russian they send can't destroy the Ratboy. The Russians would use this to destroy Ratboy, but needed to keep it secret until Ratboy let up his guard. Fortunately I was able to get this information so that the Ratboy would be safe. I say this because if the Russians are trying to destroy Ratboy they are not trying to destroy the rest of the world. May the world survive.

Double 3 - in - 1 Theory

Now is the time to act, for he has yet to master the intricacies of photosynthesis. It is my theory that his search for Schrodinger's infamous equation in order to comprehensively understand electrons, which are essential in transforming light energy into chemical. But why would he allow me to live, even after I infiltrated his plans, after I ridiculed him by interrupting his flight? Why is it that I still live? Perhaps there is something much greater at stake, for there is reason to believe that the KCM has been deliberating with Christopher Lloyd, plotting the destruction of civilization and the demise of the members of the Ely Underground. I Believe that the sinister union has been precipitated by our school's adoration for certain exchange students. Even after intense negotiations between Three-in-one with a certain short and bald administrator, whose name shall not be disclosed for the sake of world peace, The Ely newspaper showered these space-cheese hating students with praise and approval. This could be our undoing, for now their agitation grows and, as KCM becomes more disgruntled-postal-worker-like, the fate of our society is steadily becoming sealed. We must appeal to ely Student Council before it is too late, if it isn't already.

KCM, Friend or Foe?

BY: Dough Boy

The Klingon Curse Master (KCM) is really a Russian agent. The KCM has been known to help all of the gangs, but was trained by the Russians. During his training the Russians had no idea that the KCM would become so powerful. He worked for the Russians for a few years then realized that they could not control him and decided to do whatever he wanted. The KCM only associates with all of the gangs to keep the disputes going. This is done in the hope that all of the gangs will eventually destroy each other and he will become ruler of the world. Controlling the Earth will promote him on the Klingon High Counsel to Klingon Master Overlord. This, to his people, is considered a great honor. This is bad because once in Klingon rule we will be forced into organized chaos and more yet forced to eat space cheese (in Klingon pronounced Soahc dezinagro). I could never live under these terms. May the world survive.
